

The Copper Queen Store.

Some new shirt waists for women, a small quantity--only about thirty--have just been received by express and are now shown for the first time.

The quantity is so small they'll soon be gone, but if you get there soon enough, you'll be interested. They show the trend of waist styles and give a hint of what is to follow. "Pretty" doesn't begin to describe them. There are no two just alike and, small though the quantity is, you'll be bothered to pick the prettiest.

The button in the front waists are among the lot. Large pearl buttons. All have stock collars and tie combined, with the Bishop sleeve. White is the prevailing color, with small checks or dots. They are particularly handsome. See them, but don't delay, or you'll not see them all.

NIGHT POLICE FOR BISBEE

such time as the attorney could look further into the law and make sure that there would be no hitch in the proceedings before calling an election. The ordinance was accordingly laid over for further discussion at a special meeting to be held later.

The council and the fire department buried the hatchet last night and in place of squabbling over the allowance of bills contracted by the firemen and wondering whether the council had any right to meet in the fire house, they threw bouquets at each other. The council said that the fire department was the best ever and always stood ready to do its best for the city's protection against fire. This happy state of affairs came about because Chief Henkle and Sam Frankenberg had appeared before the council and told them that the fire department had agreed among themselves to permit the council to use the back room in the fire house. The fire limits were again discussed at last night's meeting. The report of the committee on this matter was read and accepted, and it was voted that a fire inspector be appointed.

That railway franchise came up again, but the committee appointed to look into its petition was not ready to report and as a consequence the subject went over to a future meeting.

Anxiety over the townsite patent was kept at fever heat by the report of Attorney Sutter to the effect that he had received no word from Washington in relation to the matter.

The city scavenger has been having his troubles. Complaints have been coming into the council that the scavenger wagon does not perform its duties to the letter. Coleman takes exceptions to these reports. His men are complying with the orders of the city in so far as it is possible. But Coleman has a teamster who wishes to quit his job. That is what is worrying him. So far there has been only one applicant for the position and he is a gentleman of color. Coleman draws the color line, so last night he had to confer with the council to learn how much authority he has in the way of engaging help. He was given all the authority he needs last night to go ahead and hire whomsoever he deems by the city scavenger was accepted and approved by the council.

Joe Schwartz, who had the contract for the plumbing of the city jail, appeared before the council last evening. Joe was there for the purpose of collecting his bill for the work which he performed, but there seems to be some fault in the plumbing of the jail. Schwartz has been before the council before with this same bill and at his last request there was a committee appointed for the purpose of looking into his work and seeing whether it complied with the specifications or not. The committee reported that it had been unable to find any specifications, but Councilman Ord called to the attention of the body that he has found the floor drain blocked up and other imperfect work done. He was not in favor of accepting the job. Alderman Warner also reported that he found some of the sewer connections were not good. Ord then moved that the contract be laid on the table for further consideration. Schwartz remarked at this juncture that Ord was not competent to decide in the matter, anyway. Alderman Johnson discussed the plumbing of the jail at some length, his remarks not tending to favor the plumbing contractor in the least. In his opinion the job was a poor one throughout. The motion to set aside the contract was passed and approved, whereupon Mr. Schwartz left the council chamber in anything but a happy frame of mind.

Bids from the Bisbee Daily Review and the Evening Miner for the city printing were read and the clerk instructed to accept the lowest bid.

Just before the close of the meeting Alderman Hunt took the floor and begged that some light be thrown on the subject of council salaries. He stated that if he was guilty of a steal from the city he wished to know it so that he could make amends and stop it in the future. He made a few uncomplimentary allusions to the way that the press of the city has handled that subject. Alderman Ord followed Hunt with a remark to the effect that he had looked into the matter carefully and in his opinion the only action that the council should take should have the effect of increasing the salary now drawn by the council rather than backing down because the Review was of the opinion that the taking of a salary by a member of the council was illegal. He thought that the newspapermen have had too much to do with the mauling of the council's business and that the subject should be dropped until the council saw fit to take it up of its own accord. Alderman Warner thought that it would be a good idea to talk the matter over for the benefit of the press, even if no specific action was taken on the subject. After a non-productive discussion lasting but a few moments, it was moved that the council adjourn until 4 o'clock this afternoon, when the monthly bills against the city will be discussed.

Suit to Quiet Title to the Bangor Mining Claim--Copper Queen. Deeds Church Property at Douglas.

(Special to Review.)

Tombstone, Sept. 1.--During the past few days several more divorce cases have been placed on the calendar in the district court, and from present appearances there will be the usual number by the December term of the district court. At present there are twelve cases on the docket, wherein one or the other parties recite their troubles and wish to have the bonds of matrimony dissolved, having found that marriage, so far as they are concerned, is a failure.

The case of the territory vs. N. F. White and J. Stewart, charged with obstructing the public highway by building a barbed wire fence over the county road, between Naco and Hereford, which was transferred from the jurisdiction of Justice Greaves at Naco to Justice Wardwell of this city, will come up for trial tomorrow. Some twenty witnesses have been summoned to testify in the case, and it promises to be exceedingly interesting.

Probate Judge O'Brien states that he does not intend handing in his resignation to the board of supervisors before the regular meeting of the board on the first Monday in October, so that prospective applicants for his position may rest easy until that time.

Suit has been filed in the district court entitled Nick Marks, Dan Leffer, John Topolich, J. Krilovich and Louis Vessalia plaintiffs, vs. August Daly, defendant, which is brought with a view of quieting the title to the 'Bangor' mining claim, situated in the Warren mining district. The plaintiffs alleged that the claim was originally located by Scott Turner on the 11th day of April, 1900, and that they have succeeded to all of the rights, title, interest and estate of the said Scott Turner. They also allege that the defendant, August Daly, makes some claim to the said mining claim, and therefore pray for judgment and decree of the court establishing their title to the same. The location notice describes the claim as being 1,800 feet easterly of the town of Bisbee and adjoining the Twilight group of claims. Miller & Williams are the plaintiffs' attorneys.

E. A. Hockley has brought suit in the district court against the Eureka Mining company for the sum of $310, due for labor and services and to satisfy a lien that was filed against the property of the company in the Hualucas some time since. O. Gibson is the plaintiff's attorney.

According to a deed on file in the county recorder's office, the Copper Queen Mining company has deeded to the Grace Methodist Episcopal church of Douglas for the consideration of $1, all of its right, title and interest in lots 17, 18, 19 and 20, in block 95, of said city. The only condition to the transfer is that in case the said property at any time should cease to be occupied by said corporation of the second part, then it shall revert to its former owners.

Sheriff Lewis has received a telegram from Sheriff Denham of Brown county, Texas, stating that he was on the road for this city coming after John Hughes, alias J. Humphreys, who was recently arrested in Bisbee and brought over here, being held on a charge of cattle stealing. Tom Flannigan has been engaged to look after Hughes' interests and it is expected that the extradition will be fought and the sheriff required to go to Phoenix to have his papers honored.

Vincent Azelerre and Rodolfo Montano are the latest arrivals at the county jail. The former was sent up from Naco to serve a term of forty days for disturbing the peace and the latter from Douglas for a term of 180 days having been convicted of petty larceny.

CORRESPONDENTS DIFFICULTIES

Constantinople, Sept. 1.--The difficulties of getting anything but rumors from the interior of Turkey, or any other part of the country, are very great.

When a correspondent finally succeeds in getting to the interior the difficulties have only commenced. He is not allowed to move without an escort, who carefully prevents him seeing or hearing anything they do not desire. Correspondents who went to Monastir during the troubles earlier in the year were thus surrounded by guards, who, under the guise of hospitality and care for their safety, prevented them getting near the fighting or other important happenings--in short, practically kept them prisoners.

The telegraph wires of course, are not open to correspondents except for news satisfactory to the Turks, and letters are opened and suppressed if considered undesirable.

The correspondents, however, are not the only persons unable to obtain all the news they desire. The continued absence of news from the interior of Macedonia, where there is widespread interruption of telegraphic communication, is causing great uneasiness to the Turkish officials here, and much unrest among the public.

THE SAME OLD WAY.

Each day some man of science Proceeds to make us glad With some new scheme for putting Mosquitoes to the bad, But season after season We learn to our dismay That the "skeeter" he keeps busy In the same old way.

We warn the fools who fancy The "tins" they have are straight, That bet on the races Is worse than bucking fate, But what care they for warnings? They go with spirits gay, And the bookie books their money In the same old way.

We try to teach the lambkin To shun the bulls and bears; We warn him not to mingle Or mix in their affairs; But, thinking that he knows it, He goes with them to play And gets himself surrounded In the same old way.

Each day the busy doctors Announce some wondrous cure For some disease or trouble That mortals must endure; Contagion, plague and fever, They knock out day by day, But the undertaker's busy In the same old way.

Not Afraid of Water.

"Oh, Freddie! Ain't you afraid?" "Who? Me? Not much! I'm a regular aquarman, I am."—New York Journal.

Hardships of the Calling.

Trump--You has purty easy times--nothin' to do but stand here sellin' lead pencils.

Pencil Peddler--Think it easy, do you? Don't you know people won't buy pencils of a feller on the street unless he looks starved an' dejected an' do apairin'?

"That's easy." "Tain't easy to look that way rich along when y'r makin' in $4 a day."—New York Weekly.

Misplaced Affection.

The Eskimos were very angry with the arctic explorer.

"What do he do?" asked the member of the relief expedition.

"He petted our dogs," explained the native.

"Is there any harm in petting your dogs?"

"Yes; their tails were frozen stiff and when they went to wag them they broke off."

A Grave Question.

Great Specialist--There doesn't seem to be anything the matter with you or generally. Have you any mental anxiety?

Patient--Yes; I have.

"You must open your mind to me. What is it?"

"I'm wondering how much you will charge me."—Life.

Out For the Stuff.

"Congressman Blank told me," said the lobbyist, "that 'nothing couldn't convince' him the bill was a good one."

"The ideal I didn't know he was so ungrammatical!"

"He wasn't. He merely wished to intimate that 'something could.'"

How She Won Him.

She--Aren't you afraid you'll lose that stone in your stud?

He--Yes; I'm going to have it set in a ring.

She--Oh, this is so sudden.—Chicago Gazette.

Sympathetic.

Young Wife (rather nervously)--Oh, cook, I must really speak to you. Your master is always complaining. One day it is the soup, the second day it is the fish, the third day it is the joint--in fact, it's always something or other.

Cook (with feeling)--Well, mum, I'm truly sorry for you. It must be quite awful to live with a gentleman of that sort.

UP TO DATE STYLES.

Costumes For Travelling--Return of Fashions and Huchings.

At this time of the year one sees all sorts of charming traveling costumes. Scotch plaids are very popular for the purpose. A charming example of green and blue has a skirt which covers the ground all around and is plaided from the hips downward, the top being composed of strappings of the plaid piped with red and trimmed with little buttons to match. The bodice is made bolero, finished with a red turnover collar and cuffs and a red leather waistband. With this is worn a soft batiste shirt and a perfectly flat hat, the only trimming being a few blue and green wings.

The French stage is largely responsible for the return to flounces, and ruffles are seen on many smart frocks.

LINEN DRESS.

There is no doubt that the bodice or blouse of the 1830 period, as well as the mantle and coat of that era, is in accordance with the ruffled flounced skirt, for the tremendous fullness around the feet necessitates a fair amount around the shoulders. Mantles are of really beautiful shapes and lovely models can be picked up at this season at small cost.

Birds and wings will appear on early fall frocks.

The illustration shows a linen costume with a long shouldered yoke having strappings of darker linen. The belt and collar are of spotted silk.

SMART GOWNS.

Coarse Hopsacks and Serges Useful For Mountain Wear.

With the short walking skirt, the short bolero, the wide soft leather belt and the wide brimmed French sailor hat turned up at the back with clusters of flowers or choux of ribbon are entirely in keeping.

Coarse hopsacks and serges are admirable for general wear in the mountains.

FLOWERED MUSLIN DRESS.

tain. Linens and lighter makes are for the warm days one has every now and then even in the fall months.

Cream is the prevailing fashionable color at both English and French watering places. Many heavy fabrics in this shade, such as English and Irish homespuns and all kinds of rough serges and tweeds are being sold for fall wear in the mountains.

Alpaca is a fabric which is never out of fashion. It is eminently useful for traveling. An alpaca gown will give the same service as a linen one, besides being smarter and useful for wear on more occasions.

The full gathered skirt and the 1830 shoulder and cape effect give the appearance of smallness to the waist without any pulling in, but they require an erect and graceful carriage on the part of the wearer.

The cut shows a gown of flowered muslin trimmed with shirtings. It is made over a contrasting shade of silk.
